INTERIM MANAGEMENT REPORT OF FUND PERFORMANCE | For the Period Ended September 30, 2023

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

November 13, 2023

This Management Discussion of Fund Performance presents the portfolio management team's view on the significant factors and developments that have affected the Fund's performance and outlook in the six-month period ended September 30, 2023 (the "period"). If the Fund was established during the period, "period" represents the period since inception.

In this report, "IGIM" and "the Manager" refer to I.G. Investment Management, Ltd., the manager of the Fund. In addition, net asset value ("NAV") refers to the value of the Fund as calculated for transaction purposes, on which the discussion of Fund performance is based.

Please read A Note on Forward-Looking Statements on the first page of this document.

Results of Operations

Investment Performance

In accordance with National Instrument 81-106, the following comparison to one or more market indices has been included to help you understand the Fund's performance relative to the general performance of the markets. However, the portfolio management team cautions that the Fund's mandate may be different from the index or indices shown. Also, it is important to note that investors cannot invest in an index. Indirect investments in an index are available; however, there are fees and transaction costs and other variables that will impact returns when investing in these products. Index returns included in the comparison below do not reflect these costs and variables.

For longer-term performance of the Fund, see the Past Performance section of this report.

For the six-month period ended September 30, 2023, the Series P securities returned 1.8% (after deducting fees and expenses paid by the Fund). In comparison, the Fund's broad-based index, the ICE BofA U.S. Corporate & Government Index, returned -3.6% and the Fund's new narrow index, the ICE BofA US High Yield (Hedged) Index, returned 1.8%. Effective April 1, 2023, the ICE BofA US High Yield (Hedged) Index replaced the Fund's previous narrow index, the JPMorgan Developed High Yield Index (returned 2.9%) because it is more representative of the Fund's investment process. Given the Fund's mandate, the narrow index has been included as a more meaningful comparison.

In response to persistent inflation, the U.S. Federal Reserve increased its federal funds rate by 50 basis points over the period to a target range of 5.25%–5.50%. U.S. corporate bond prices declined, but outperformed government bonds as credit spreads (the difference in yield between corporate and government bonds) narrowed. High-yield bond prices rose and yields moved lower in response to expectations the U.S. economy might avoid a significant recession.

The Fund outperformed the broad-based index. The Fund's security selection in the financials and communication sectors and in the technology industry contributed to performance relative to the broad-based index. Security selection in the healthcare sector and in the gaming, lodging and leisure industry, as well as underweight positioning and security selection in the automotive industry, detracted from performance.

The Fund performed in line with the new narrow index. Security selection in the industrials and energy sectors and allocation to cash detracted from performance. Exposure to bank loans and security selection in the communication and financials sectors contributed to performance.

The Fund is overweight relative to the index in corporate bonds issued by companies in the energy and industrials sectors. It holds a small selection of bank loans and convertible securities.

Net Assets

The Fund's net assets decreased by 13.1% during the period to $330.0 million. This change was composed primarily of $6.4 million in net income (including any interest and/or dividend income) from investment performance, after deducting fees and expenses, and a decrease of $56.4 million due to net securityholder activity (including sales, redemptions and cash distributions).

Fees and Expenses

The annualized management expense ratio ("MER") for each series during the period ended September 30, 2023, was generally similar to the MER for the year ended March 31, 2023. Total expenses paid vary from period to period mainly as a result of changes in average assets in each series. No management fee or administration fee, other than certain specific fund costs, is charged to the Fund. The MERs for all series are presented in the Financial Highlights section of this report.

Recent Developments

High-yield bonds have performed well in 2023 as recession risks decline and data point to continued easing inflation. Corporate fundamentals have been resilient and market conditions have been supportive. While bond yields remain attractive, during the remainder of the year the portfolio management team expects an environment where investors focus on holding bonds for returns from coupon payments rather than attempting to profit from changes in yields. However, the team believes high-yield bond valuations remain somewhat attractive and the Fund is positioned for an environment of slower growth or a mild recession in 2024.

Although the Federal Reserve has indicated interest rates are likely to remain elevated for longer than initially expected, the team believes it is likely near the end of its tightening cycle. Volatility could continue in fixed income markets as high interest rates put pressure on corporate balance sheets and the potential exists for a recession.

Related Party Transactions

I.G. Investment Management, Ltd. is the Manager, Trustee and Portfolio Advisor of the Fund. The Fund is only available for purchase by other IG Wealth Management Funds and is not available for purchase by retail investors. The Manager, Portfolio Advisor and Trustee are, indirectly, wholly owned subsidiaries of IGM Financial Inc.

Putnam Investments Canada ULC and The Putnam Advisory Company, LLC are indirectly affiliated with IGM Financial Inc.

Certain other investment funds, distributed by IG Wealth Management, and other qualified investors may invest in Series P of this Fund. As at September 30, 2023, this series comprised 100.0% of the Fund's net assets. The Manager relied on standing instructions approved by the IG Wealth Management Funds Independent Review Committee for the execution of all such transactions, which are based on the net asset value per security determined in accordance with the stated policies of the Fund on each transaction day. Investments by other investment funds in the Fund increase the risk of large redemption or purchase orders, which could result in larger than normal cash positions in the Fund for short periods of time. This could have an impact on the Fund's operations. However, the Manager uses various strategies to minimize the potential dilutive impact associated with large cash positions. These strategies may include transferring securities in-kind where possible, utilizing ETFs to maintain market exposure in lieu of cash and spreading transactions in smaller increments over a period of time.

This information is derived from the Fund's unaudited interim financial statements and audited annual financial statements. The net assets per security presented in the financial statements may differ from the net asset value per security calculated for fund pricing purposes. An explanation of these differences, if any, can be found in the Notes to Financial Statements.

(2) Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of securities outstanding at the relevant time. The increase/decrease from operations is based on the weighted average number of securities outstanding over the fiscal period.

(3) Distributions were paid in cash, reinvested in additional securities of the Fund, or both.

(1) This information is provided as at the end of the fiscal period shown.

(2) Management expense ratio ("MER") is based on total expenses, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, income taxes and withholding taxes, for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, except as noted. In the period a series is established, the MER is annualized from the date of inception to the end of the period. Where the Fund directly invests in securities of another fund (including exchange-traded funds or "ETFs"), the MERs presented for the Fund include the portion of MERs of the other fund(s) attributable to this investment. Any income distributions received from ETFs managed by affiliates of the Manager, with the intention of offsetting fees paid within those ETFs but which are not considered to be duplicative fees under regulatory requirements, are treated as waived expenses for MER purposes. The Manager may waive or absorb operating expenses at its discretion and stop waiving or absorbing such expenses at any time without notice.

(3) The trading expense ratio ("TER") represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs incurred as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period. Where the Fund invests in securities of another fund (including ETFs), the TERs presented for the Fund include the portion of TERs of the other fund(s) attributable to this investment.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not provided when the Fund is less than one year old. The value of any trades to realign the Fund's portfolio after a fund merger, if any, is excluded from the portfolio turnover rate.

Management Fees

The Fund is only available for purchase by other IG Wealth Management Funds and is not available for purchase by retail investors. In order to avoid duplication of fees in the other IG Wealth Management Funds, the Fund does not pay a management fee.
